

From the scriptures: Karma

Intention (or will, or volition), I call karma. Through intention one produces karma by way of body, speech and mind.

Anguttara Nikaya, 6.63

No harm comes to him who does no harm

Dhammapada 124

Some are born again; those caught in evil ways go to a state of intense suffering, those who have done good go to a state of joy.

Dhammapada 126

Speak quietly to everyone, and they too will be gentle in their speech. Harsh words hurt and come back to the speaker.

Dhammapada 133

Do not give your attention to what others do or fail to do; give it to what you do or fail to do.

Dhammapada 50

Our life is shaped by our mind; we become what we think. Suffering follows an evil thought as the wheels of a cart follow the oxen that draw it.

Our life is shaped by our mind; we become what we think. Joy follows a pure thought like a shadow that never leaves.

Dhammapada 1-2

When their good deeds overcome their bad, a person gives light to the world like the moon breaking free from behind the clouds.

Dhammapada 173
