

Dependent Arising – presentation notes

These notes accompany the Dependent Arising slides, available on windowsintobuddhism.com

At the start of the “Everything is interdependent” video there is a short book ad which you can easily skip.

When students reflect on “What needs to happen for you to get to school in the morning?” You may need to guide them to identify examples. This might include anything from someone having built a car to the right conditions for the wheat for their cereal to be grown.

Group work: You might want to plan for some A3 paper and felt tips for this.
